NOPD nabs Hancock jail escapee

By ELLIS CUEVAS

An escapee of the Hancock County jail 11 months ago was apprehended by New Orleans Police, according to Hancock Investigator Alvin Ladner.

"Jay Bee Cunningham, 27, who was under indictment and awaiting trial on charges of kidnapping, armed robbery, and rape was captured Tuesday by New Orleans Police," Ladner said.

Hancock officers felt Cunningham was in New Orleans and had been in contact with the fugitive department several times in recent months.

Ladner stated, "Cunningham was apparently involved in a burglary in New Orleans and Hancock officials are now awaiting to learn if he will waive extradition or if they will have to start extradition proceedings."

Cunningham is lodged in the Orleans Parish jail.

HGH to buy Blood Bank storage unit

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The trustees of Hancock General Hospital authorized the purchase of a new cooler for Blood Bank storage at their regular meeting Tuesday.

The purchase is to be made after Administrator Phil Langston requested a new unit as he stated, "The unit we are now using is getting old and we are afraid of losing a whole supply if it goes bad and that could involve a $34,000 amount."

It was explained that the blood supply furnished through the American Red Cross Blood Bank can be kept for several days before using with proper temperatures and can be exchanged when it nears the expiration date.

The cooler is manufactured by only one firm according to Langston and costs in the neighborhood of $2,400.

The new system is more than a refrigerator Langston emphasized and will have several alarm systems in case of a malfunction.

In other matters, the trustees authorized Langston to change the health insurance coverage for employees effective Nov. 1.

The trustees had heard proposals from several companies in recent weeks.

Kenneth McIntosh, a Mississippi Hospital Association representative met with the trustees Tuesday.

A lengthy discussion was held about the laundry costs before the docket was accepted.

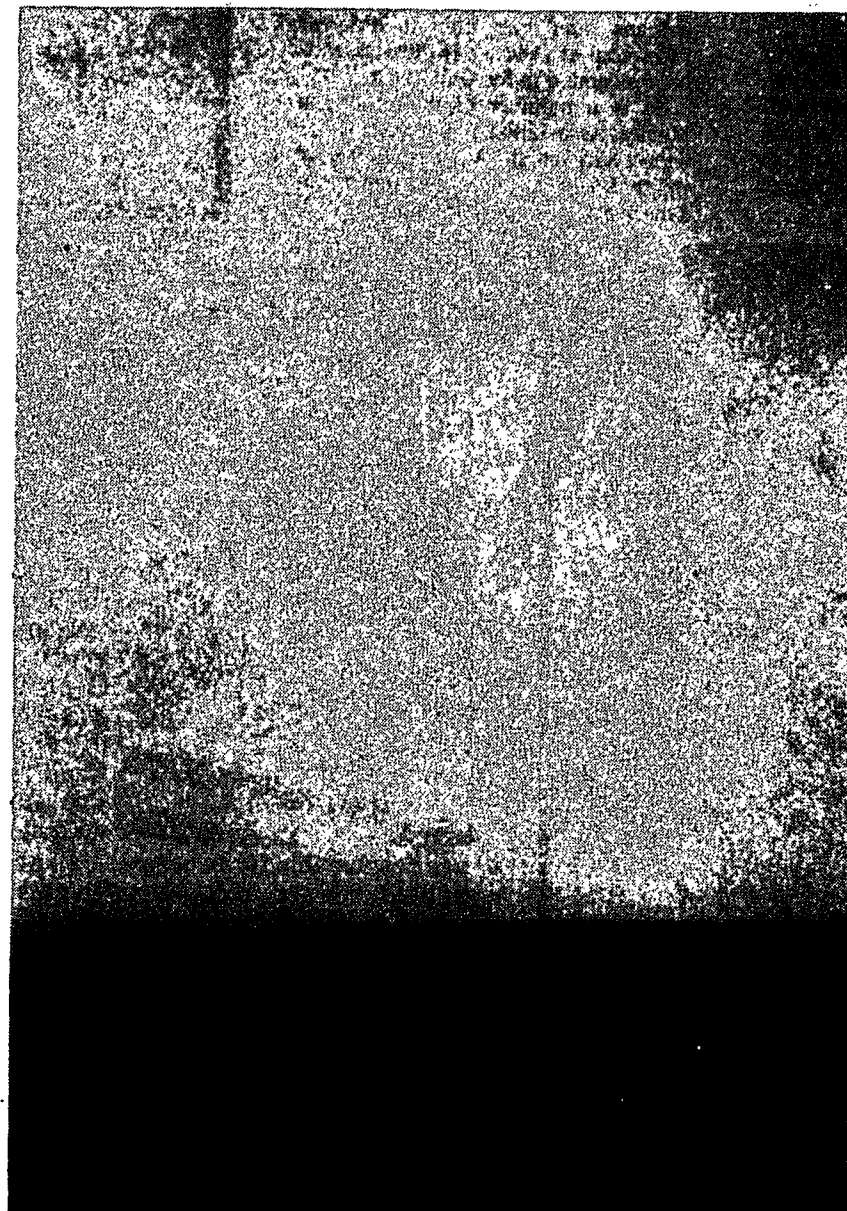

Mike Dossett, comptroller, is to prepare a breakdown for the trustees on the costs of the laundry for the next meeting.

Dossett said, "This month's bill is for about a six week period. The laundry company has instituted a new policy where the driver delivers the bill on delivery. Before it would be mailed and some would come after our billing cycle."

The trustees entered into an executive session to discuss possible real estate sites at the request of the long range planning committee members.

Poor southern U.S. economy reduces natural gas sales of another pipeline company

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Poor economic conditions affecting southern United States industries has slowed gas sales of another pipeline company which serves local municipalities.

Marvin Brown, media relations manager of United Energy Resources of Houston, Tex., recently reported a decreased demand by industrial customers in the South has forced United Gas Pipeline Co. to exercise economic out provisions in purchasing gas from producers.

United Energy is the parent company of United Gas, also of Houston, which supplies gas to the utility departments of Pass Christian through a retailer, Entex, and Bay St. Louis and Waveland.

Brown said United Gas serves municipalities and industries throughout the southern U.S. from Texas to Florida.

The Sea Coast Echo revealed in its Sept. 2 issue that Tennessee Gas Pipeline Co., also based in Houston, temporarily stopped operations at Compressor Station No. 530 near Ansley for the first time in 23 years due to a pipeline pressure buildup resulting from low usage by industrial customers in New England and mid-Atlantic states.

Officials of Tenneco, Inc. feel the Tennessee Gas lull will end when temperatures drop in the north.

Tennessee Gas is a division of Tenneco.

But Brown stated, "We (United Energy) always have more demand in the winter. But when we will have a permanent pickup, even the chairman of our company won't predict that."

Brown said the action by United Energy will not affect consumer natural gas prices, but gas producers will have to reduce their prices or sell elsewhere.

But United Gas increased its retail gas rates some 23 percent on Sept. 1.

Company officials said revenues from the increase are for United's share of the Alaskan Pipeline construction costs.

He explained some 104 natural gas producers have been informed by letter of United's intention to exercise the provisions because the wholesale price makes it economically unfeasible to sell gas at the going rate.

The out provisions effect gas drawn from formations 15,000 feet or more below the Earth's surface. The price of that gas, which is more costly to produce, is not presently regulated by the federal government.

United Energy also placed price ceilings on natural gas drawn from tight sands formations—gas deposits which are difficult to produce.

"We are the third or fourth pipeline company to do this," Brown said regarding the notifications.

He also reported the price reduction is prompted by low prices offered for residual fuel oil which competes with natural gas as an industrial fuel source. United's purchase price ceiling for the deep deregulated and tight sands gas is $5.723 per million British thermal units which was approved by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission for August in Texas, he explained.

County squad probing fires

Homes, vehicles burn in four Hancock arsons

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Law enforcement agencies are investigating four recent fires involving a summer residence, trailer, pickup truck and car which were set by arsonists.

Assistant Chief Gerald (Rusty) Price III of the Waveland Fire Department Wednesday morning said at the scene of the house fire that arson is definitely the cause of the blaze which damaged a summer residence at 612 Central Avenue owned by Barbara Hoover of New Orleans.

The Waveland Police Department is investigating the apparent break-in and arson which was reported to the fire department by neighbor Santo Saucier who saw smoke rising from the home and discovered a broken window in the back of the house.

Firefighters snuffed the fire which was primarily burning a living room sofa.

Price noted the fire caused heat and smoke damage throughout the home.

Patrolman Chuck James of the police department carefully removed a cereal box and milk carton from the house apparently to check for fingerprints.

He noted a burner on an electric kitchen stove was left on at its highest temperature in the house.

A television set in a bedroom was found on and the culprit apparently tried to ignite a fire in a bathroom, James pointed out.

Price said no one was found at the residence when firefighters arrived at the scene.

Volunteer and regular Waveland firefighters responded to the blaze.

In reference to the trailer fire, the Hancock County Sheriff's Department Arson Investigation Squad is probing a recent fire which damaged a BaySide Park mobile home.

Lagoon is polluting Watts Bayou

Bay will violate law by adding sewer users

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The City of Bay St. Louis will be violating state law if it hooks up any new individual residences or businesses to its sewer system.

Caleb Dana, State Department of Natural Resources Bureau of Pollution Control municipal facilities section coordinator, Wednesday in Jackson said since Bay St. Louis has not yet joined the Waveland Regional Wastewater Management District that any additional sewer tie-ins will violate state law.

He explained the state required the Cities of Waveland and Bay St. Louis and Hancock County to join the district by Aug. 1, 1982.

Waveland and the county joined the district just a few days after the deadline, but the District Board of Directors rejected Bay St. Louis' proposal to join since it included several conditions for joining the organization.

Dana also reported Bay St. Louis' sewage oxidation pond is not operating properly, emanating an odor into the surrounding neighborhood and is polluting Watts Bayou where runoff from the lagoon flows.

The BPR official said the three local governments must also turn over any sewage treatment facilities to the local district by Nov. 1.

Waveland officials agreed to lease its treatment plant, which Dana said is complying with state anti-pollution guidelines, to the district last week and Hancock's Board of Supervisors, although it has no treatment facilities, is expected to approve a contract Oct. 4 specifying terms for the county's participation.

The district directors are Mayors

John Longo of Waveland and Larry Bennett of Bay St. Louis and A.A. (Dolph) Kellar, supervisor board president.

Although Bennett did not attend the meeting last week due to illness, Longo and Kellar accepted the Waveland proposal to lease its treatment plant to the district for $1,206-per-month until November, 2007.

The year 2007 is when the bonded indebtedness on the Waveland plant will be completely paid and the lease amount is one-third of the monthly bond payments, City Attorney Lucien Gex explained at the meeting.

The Bay St. Louis City Council Tuesday night received copies of the Waveland proposal and county agreements for review and considera-

State expert debunks statistically lower Hancock jobless rate

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Although a current Mississippi Employment Service report indicates a decline in Hancock County's unemployment rate, a state labor market analyst Tuesday said that figure is a statistical aberration.

Hancock's jobless rate for August is listed at 9.6 percent, a seven-tenths percent decrease since July.

But Ian C. Shearer of the employment service's Gulfport office explained job opportunities have not improved in Hancock.

He said the reduced number of jobless residents apparently resulted from individuals' unemployment insurance benefits running out or employable residents moving from the area.

"The only way we can keep up with the number of unemployed people in the county is to count the number receiving unemployment benefits," Shearer explained.

A combined average of unemployment rates for Hancock, Harrison and Stone Counties reflect a 10.2 percent August rate which is nine-tenths of a percentage point higher than the previous month, Shearer noted.

In addition, neighboring Harrison County's jobless rate increased five-tenths percent from July to 8.8 percent in August, he reported.

Based on the report, Hancock's available resident civilian labor force decreased from 9,650 in July to 9,480 in August.

The reported number of unemployed also decreased from 990 in July to 910 in August.

Shearer said 60-70 percent of Hancock's employable residents work either at the National Space Technology Laboratories or Port Bienville Industrial Park.

He reported no significant hiring changes have occurred at either of the county employment centers.

Mississippi's unemployment rate rose to 12.5 percent in August, an increase of two-tenths of a percent point compared to July's jobless rate of 12.3 percent, Mississippi Employment Security Commission Executive Director O.H. Simmons reports.

Last year's August unemployment rate for the state was higher than the 9.6 percent national rate for August, he says.

Commission figures show 131,900 unemployed and 920,400 employed out of a civilian labor force of 1,052,300.

The initial unemployment insurance claims totaled 23,441 in August, Simmons reports.

"Some 68 of the state's 82 counties have unemployment rates of 10 percent or higher for August. Nine of those counties report unemployment rates in excess of 20 percent," the director says.

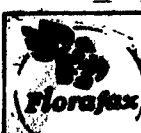

Counties with the highest unemployment rates in August are Jefferson at 24.2 percent, Walthall at 23.2 percent and Marshall at 22.7 percent, he notes.

Issaquena, Rankin, and Oktibbeha Counties report the lowest jobless rates in August with Issaquena at 5.3 percent, Rankin at 6.5 percent, and Oktibbeha at 6.3 percent, Simmons says.

"Some 54 counties show an increase in unemployment rates from July to August, while 23 reported decreases. The unemployment rate in five counties was unchanged," he adds.

"An acquaintance is a person we know well enough to borrow from but not well enough to lend to."

Hospital's Humanitarian Award goes to Peggy Clancy

Phil Langston presents Humanitarian Award to Peggy Clancy

Peggy Clancy, emergency room nurse at Hancock General Hospital has received the 1982 Dr. Frist Humanitarian Award. Phil Langston, hospital administrator, presented the award in recent ceremonies at the Dunbar Avenue facility. The award was established in 1972 as a living tribute to Dr. Thomas F. Frist, one of the three founders and first president of Hospital Corporation of America, manager of HGH in Bay St. Louis. The citation is presented annually to one employee of each HCA-affiliated hospital who has made 'significant contributions to the improvement of patient care, demonstrated unusual concern for the welfare and happiness of patients and performed extraordinary acts of kindness.'

"Clancy was nominated by the employees at Hancock General," said Langston, "and was chosen because, on three separate occasions, she initiated cardio-pulmonary resuscitation to three patients, thereby resulting in the saving of their lives."

"Peggy has shown herself to be a dependable and most admired person, due to her modesty and sense of responsibility to her community and fellow workers," he stated. "And, in addition to her abilities as a nurse, she is also an accomplished artist and has donated several of her paintings to the hospital to assist in our beautification program."

Clancy's name will be submitted for the regional award, and if chosen, will go on to the national competition.

FINAL CLOSEOUTS! FINAL CLOSEOUTS! FINAL CLOSEOUTS!

By Ellis

Bits 'n pieces

It does a person good to get away for a few days of vacation as we did last week.

It is amazing how other communities and states tend to have some of the same problems we are faced with in Hancock County.

On our visit to Arkansas we read several of the newspapers with stories featuring objections to requests by utility companies wanting to raise rates.

Several big stories were on the overcrowded conditions of jails throughout Arkansas.

So many of the problems facing our residents are also facing many more people probably throughout the nation.

We hope the fresh cool weather arriving Wednesday morning will give more high school football supporters the push needed to support our local teams. The professional games should be off television with the strike for several weeks.

Tiger Stadium should be jumping Friday night when the 2-1 Bay High Eleven take-on Vancleave's Bulldogs.

Coach Snuffy Smith's Tigers have been playing some fine football this season and lost a thriller last Friday to Pearl River Central by one point.

The game will be played in Bay High's stadium, and we hope the stands will be full of Tiger supporters.

Hancock North Central will entertain winless Pass Christian in Hawk Stadium Friday.

The Pirates have not tasted victory this season, but they always seem to be up for the Hawks no matter their record.

We are sure Coach Irvin Farve's Hawks are not taking the Pirates for granted because he knows what it is to encounter Pass Christian.

We know the Hawks would like to even their record for the season and the Pirates get into the winning circle. We hope both the Hawks and Pirates will have many supporters backing them.

Coach Vernon Powell's Rock-A-Chaws will seek their first victory of the season Friday night against ever powerful Long Beach.

A peek performance by Stanislaus could put them in the winner's column for the first time this season.

If a lot of Rock-A-Chaw supporters journey to Long Beach to give Stanislaus some moral support, they could possibly "pull the rabbit out" and defeat Long Beach.

Saturday will again be an important day for the qualified electors of Hancock County, because there is a run-off election for the office of superintendent of education.

Two weeks ago, less than 35 per cent of the electors took the time to vote in the special election with five vying for the position.

Why there are only two candidates left in the race, but feel it is important to vote Saturday in this election.

We would like to see a 50 per cent participation by the qualified electors in this election.

Vote yourself, and urge everyone else in the Hancock County School District to please vote Saturday.

Next Wednesday night at the St. Augustine Seminary Gym in Bay St. Louis a very important forum is scheduled.

It will be a time for the residents of Hancock County who are interested in the educational welfare of our children to get some good answers on the selection change on a State Board of Education which will be coming up as a Constitutional Amendment in November.

There will be other topics of discussion such as compulsory school attendance and also public kindergarten.

This local educational forum is sponsored by the Governor's Educational Forum Planning Committee for Hancock County.

Donald T. Sullivan, director of the Department of Audit and Evaluation in Governor Winter's Office of Federal-State Programs, is the scheduled guest speaker for the session to begin at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 29.

The local forum is a prelude to a Coast-wide forum scheduled for Oct. 19 at the Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College in Pascagoula.

The Tiger Pride Boosters will sponsor a car wash and bake sale Saturday at Hancock Bank's US-90 parking lot in Bay St. Louis.

A donation of $2.50 per car wash will go to a group of proud parents who work very hard for the Bay High Band.

With the member of the Tiger Pride Boosters that they will have a long way to top last year's performance and she assured us they had some bigger plans this school year.

As you know the Bay High Band represented Mississippi in the Cherry Blossom Festival in Washington last Spring.

So if the puddles of water have splashed your car and gotten it a little dirty, you can get it cleaned at a reasonable price on Saturday and the proceeds will go to a good cause.

Construction work on the first block of Main Street has caused a lot of traffic on Court Street in Bay St. Louis.

The increase in traffic has caused some congestion and yet there are motorists who seem to want to "fly" down Court Street instead of driving at a moderate speed.

We hope all motorists will use extreme care and travel at a sensible speed.

Just think, this is the first week of Autumn and it feels like the weather read the calendar.

Law enforcement officers indifferent to woman's complaint

To the Editor
The Sea Coast Echo

Dear Sir:

On Sept. 10, 1982, about 8:05 a.m., my daughter and myself were driving east on US-90.

Just west of Main Street a yellow Toyota truck, built up on big wheels, passed us going east. He was driving at a fast rate of speed running other cars off the right side of the highway, then proceeded to drive between the two lanes of east-bound traffic.

By this time a black truck with a black camper on the back came along also at a fast speed as if following the Toyota truck.

Each of them were cutting traffic, first from one side then to the other.

The light was green at Dunbar and both trucks kept going. I told my daughter to stop and I would tell the two Bay policemen who were there on school patrol.

My daughter moved over to the left into the turning lane. The light was red so we stopped about three cars back and I jumped out of her car and ran down to tell the Bay policemen.

I told them what had happened and asked them if they had seen the two trucks. Without moving from their sitting position on the hood of the police car they said they had seen the trucks.

I again told them how the trucks were running other cars off the road. The two policemen just sat there and gave me this blank look without making any attempt to call anyone.

I looked across the street where my daughter had parked the car. I humped my shoulders and called to her across the street, because my talking to the policemen did not do any good.

We left and went to the Sheriff's Department. A deputy was outside and I asked him if he was on the radio and he told me yes. I told him what had happened and how the Bay police had treated me.

I told him those trucks were going to get someone killed. He told me Pass Christian police would probably get them or the Highway Patrol over that way might get them. Then he walked away unconcerned.

Is this what our tax money is paying for? If so, we need to quit paying taxes. If we can't go to our local law enforcement for help who do we go to?

Roadside assistance draws commendation

To the Editor
The Sea Coast Echo

Sir,

If Mike Mirandy, a graduate of St. Stanislaus, is an example of the youth of Bay St. Louis, this community is very fortunate.

This young man is most helpful, generous, and polite.

Recently, my husband and I had trouble with a brake locking on the front right tire of our car.

In fact, we had just purchased some parts to repair it.

While stopped off of US-90 by Bureau Realty with a smoking-hot tire, this young man came along, stopped, offered his help, then went home to Sunset Drive to get his tools, and returned and spent about an hour taking off the old parts and replacing them with the newly purchased parts.

His kindness deserves recognition. His parents should be very proud of him.

Yours truly,

Dear Sir,

While I am sure you received the enclosed News Letter, I want to point out one portion of it which you may or may not have noticed.

It appears that our Welcome Center is being most effective and certainly the most active in the State.

I am pleased that our Hancock County staff gets a "crack" at so many of the visitors of our State. I know they present a most favorable impression to those visitors, and I personally appreciate the good job they are doing.

Sincerely,
Martin T. Smith
State Senator
47th District
Mississippi

(Editor's Note: The Senator's enclosure reported 147,599 people visited Mississippi Welcome Centers in June and 182,654 in July with the highest number recorded in Hancock at 1-10 and Hwy. 607 with 41,366 visitors in July.)

FAMILY INCOME FIGURES AND WHAT THEY MEAN

It's a common occurrence to pick up the newspaper and read still another report about how Mississippi is at or near the bottom of the 50 states in average income or in a related category.

While these statistics remind us that much work is needed to help Mississippi make economic advances so its citizens can enjoy a higher standard of living, there's evidence that these income reports don't tell the full story.

A survey earlier this year brings into question the income figures for the 50 states and what they mean. Moreover, the survey, by the American Chamber of Commerce Researchers Association, illustrates the need to be careful when comparing different levels of income from different locations across the United States.

Comparing the cost of living in New York City and Fayetteville, Arkansas, the study found that it cost about 50 percent more for a family of four to live in New York City than in Fayetteville. Noting that in 1980 the poverty threshold for an urban family of four was $8,414, the study pointed out that the Arkansas family could live more comfortably with this level of income than its New York counterpart.

And when in-kind benefits such as food stamps, subsidized school lunches, free medical care, and housing subsidies are added, the family income figures take on new meaning. In fact, the study concluded that when all factors are weighed, the number of people living under the poverty line would be reduced, possibly as much as 42 percent.

The Mississippi Economic Council supports the continued economic development of our state through a favorable business climate and an improved education system. Further, the MEC supports a more comprehensive reporting of government income statistics, including what these statistics really mean.

The Bottom Line

Candid Answers To Your Questions
About Advertising and Business Topics.

By S. GALE DENLEY
Associate Professor of Journalism
University of Mississippi

In several of my trade publications I have read about positioning in the marketplace as a major goal for an advertising program. I'm not sure I know what this means. Can You Help?

Dear CYH: Positioning is creating a unique place in the public mind for products, services, firms and institutions.

Examples you may have seen in media advertising recently include some beer companies—Lowenbrau, for example, is for special occasions, Michelob is for weekends, and Miller is for the end of a tough job.

The thrust of the ads is not to get wholesale conversions of regular beer drinkers; but rather to suggest something different—an alternative, and provide a special reason for doing so.

The companies are attempting to establish themselves in the beer market as having a special place.

Another new push in the closing days of the seventies was Cadillac's focus on the younger automobile owners. Previously Cadillac was promoted as a luxury car for those who had done well, usually middle aged or older.

Now the young professional, under 30, is being featured in many of Cadillac's ads. The company is attempting to establish for itself a new position (or reposition itself) with the younger market.

Colleges and trade schools also attempt to establish identities with certain specialties. The reputation the various institutions have are a reflection of their positioning.

Business specializing in quality goods constantly advertise their brand names to impress on the public mind their unique role in the market.

Likewise, stores offering bargain prices feature special and low cost items in order to become the place to go to save.

So the positioning may be as flagrant as Avis Car Rental's, "We're No. 2," or it may be so subtle that the desired reaction is never mentioned, but is manifest only in the goods and services offered.

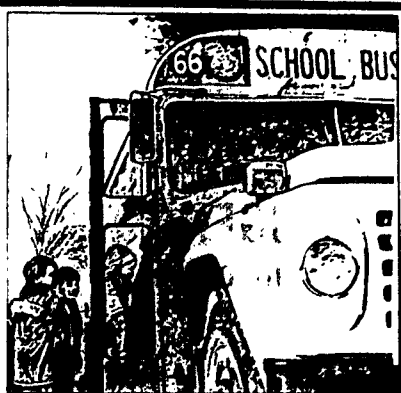

A most important management function, however, is to keep the positioning attempts consistent. You can't go off in all directions, as offering bargains one week and quality, prestige merchandise the next.

Several major companies have learned the hard way that indecision can be disastrous especially if the result is that they go off in several directions in promotion. Get a game plan and stick to it.

This is not to say you can't change the plan, but rather that you should change slowly and know where you are going, before you start.

SEVENTH PARK—A new 136 unit apartment complex being constructed on Waveland Avenue in Waveland almost directly across from Our Shopping Center will contain 34 two-story buildings shaped like the one pictured above. The octagon shape allows maximum use of square footage, according to

Louis Sage, project contractor. Each of the four octagons per building will contain one apartment which will feature a living room-dining room, kitchen with breakfast area, two bedrooms, bath and porch. The apartments will be rented. (Staff photo by Brent Macey)

Home owners to feel strongest impact of flat rate tax

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article, entitled "The Flat-Rate Tax and Housing" by Richard R. Muth, professor of economics at Stanford University and an authority on the housing industry, is furnished to The Sea Coast Echo by Public Research, Syndicated of Claremont, Calif.

In recent weeks there has been considerable discussion about substituting a flat-rate tax for our current personal income tax, and several bills which would do so have been introduced into the Congress.

The flat-rate tax, under most proposals, would retain or even increase the personal exemption in the current federal income tax.

It would abolish most or all deductions, however. The current system of taxing additional income at ever-increasing rates would be replaced by a constant rate of tax throughout the income range.

Through new to many, the flat-rate tax is really a rather old idea. Nobel prize winning economist Milton Friedman suggested it in his book "Capitalism and Freedom" 20 years ago.

Moreover, until inflation listed Americans into progressively higher tax brackets in the 70s, the federal income tax was in effect a flat-rate tax throughout all but the very highest income levels.

This was because as the taxpayer's before-tax income rose so did his total deductions, offsetting the higher tax rate applicable to his additional income.

Among the most important of these deductions are those for mortgage interest and property taxes paid.

Not only do these reduce the degree of progression in the personal income tax, but they reduce substantially the cost of living in an owned home. Under the personal income tax in this country, the taxpayer need not report the imputed rental value of his home as income. He can, however, deduct mortgage interest and property taxes amount to about three-quarters of the cost of living in an owned home.

Thus, if a taxpayer pays 20 cents additional tax on each additional dollar of income, he pays only 85 cents per dollar of his housing costs after tax.

Since the level of taxes is fixed ultimately by the level of government expenditures, lower taxes for homeowners mean higher taxes for renters.

The personal tax treatment of income from owner-occupied housing is often justified by the social benefits of homeownership.

The tax advantage, however, is a very inefficient way of inducing more households to become homeowners.

Most studies suggest that the sizeable tax advantages of owning one's home have led only about four percent of the nation's households to become homeowners, increasing the extent of homeownership from 62 to the current 66 percent.

Data contained in a recent Congressional Budget Office study indicate that roughly $50 billion of tax revenue is lost currently because of the way income from owner housing is taxed.

The tax subsidy is thus of the order of $15,000 per year for each additional household induced to become homeowners.

Most of the subsidy—about $1,000 per year per homeowner—goes to those who would have been homeowners without the tax subsidy. Surely more cost effective ways could be found to stimulate homeownership.

Another effect of the income tax treatment of homeownership is that it draws capital away from the industrial sector of the economy.

Somewhat surprising to many is the fact that about half our country's fixed capital stock is in the form of residential real estate.

I have estimated that, because of the tax advantage, the capital invested in the typical owner-occupied house is almost 15 percent greater than it would otherwise be.

Our non-residential capital stock is about five percent smaller. The tax advantage for owner housing thus runs counter to the current Administration's concern for increasing investment in the industrial sector of the economy.

If a poll were taken, the vast majority of economists would almost certainly support eliminating the current tax treatment of income from owner-occupied housing.

To attempt to do so, however, would engender strong opposition.

If the tax advantage were removed, the prices of houses would fall, in effect imposing a tax on the wealth of existing homeowners.

Clearly, there is little likelihood of adopting a flat-rate tax system which is detrimental to the interests of two-thirds of the electorate.

Nor would there be any economic advantage to changing the tax rules for existing housing. For there is no way in which the extra resources invested in existing houses could be recovered and put to other uses.

Changing the rules could, however, reduce the amount of future investment in owner houses and increase the amount of new investment in the rest of the economy.

To do so, however, would still be difficult in the absence of a radical revision of the personal income tax. The flat-rate tax offers such an opportunity.

Moreover, it could provide the substantial advantages of simplicity for the taxpayer, equity among taxpayers and efficiency for the economy as a whole.

Broadening the tax base to include the imputed rental value of owner housing built after its enactment would be an important step toward securing the potential advantages the flat-rate tax scheme has to offer this country.

SPEC 4 PAYNE

Army Spec. 4 David Payne, son of Barbara J. Payne of 365 Courtenay Ave., Pass Christian, is one of more than 100,000 U.S. soldiers and airmen participating in the U.S. Army Reforger, or return of forces to Germany, and the U.S. Air Force Crested Cap exercises in Europe.

U.S. service members in Europe, as well as those from the United States, join their NATO partners in ground exercises centering on central West Germany east of the Rhine River.

The joint exercises are designed to demonstrate U.S. capabilities to reinforce Europe with NATO-committed ground and air units in a crisis situation.

Payne is an armor crewman with the 1st Armored Division in Erlangen, West Germany.

Have you noted that special fragrance in the produce departments these days...it's the autumnal aroma of apples, and when you take some home and bake them...ah, there's an aroma I wish could be bottled, such a good, natural smell instead of all the lemon and what-else scented air fresheners so abundant these days.

So, why not bake a few memories today - baked apples, apple dumplings, that all-time American favorite, apple pie?

And spare a kindly thought for "Johnny Appleseed," whose birthday anniversary is Monday.

This picturesque folk hero, born Sept. 26, 1774, was really named John Chapman.

A master nurseryman, he filled backpacks and sacks with seeds from cider presses and headed out into the countryside, ranging through Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, and elsewhere, sometimes even ahead of the pioneers, planting his nurseries in clearings or clearing spaces himself.

The settlers welcomed him on his later trips to inspect the plantings, and his real name was forgotten through the 50 years he traveled the lands.

Some of his trees may still be standing, although many believe that the last one toppled in a windstorm near Mansfield, Ohio, in 1959, after bearing apples for more than 100 years.

Apples, of course, are tasty eaten raw, mixed into salads, baked, and so on. But apples are also good in main dishes, and here's an excellent way to satisfy autumn appetites. Here's

APPLE-SAUSAGE SKILLET

1½ to 2 lbs. fresh sausage links

6 apples, peeled, cored, sliced

2 large onions, sliced or coarsely chopped

½ cup dry white wine

Pinch of thyme

Pepper, salt (optional)

Prick the sausages and place in heavy skillet. Pour water over to depth of a half inch, and bring to a boil, turning the sausages once, and cook until the water evaporates.

Let the sausages get golden on both sides as they sizzle in their own fat, turning as necessary and keeping the fire low so the juices won't burn.

When sausages are done, remove them from the skillet, and pour off all but three or four tablespoons of the fat. Cook the onions in this, stirring as needed, until soft and browning, keeping the fire low so as not to burn the sausage juices sticking to the pan.

Add the apple slices and the wine, stirring and scraping so as to melt the sausage juices. Sprinkle the merest pinch of thyme over, and cover the skillet.

Cook for about 15 minutes, taking a look from time to time and stirring a bit to prevent sticking. You may want to add pepper and salt, or the sausage may be seasoned enough to begin with. Taste and see.

By this time you should have a thick brown sauce with a tasty fragrance. Return the sausage to the skillet and heat very slowly, covered, until the sausage is hot. You can make this beforehand or even a day ahead, if you wish, and reheat at serving time (4 servings.)

CLERMONT HOME DESTROYED—Flames engulf a summer residence at the intersection of Railroad Avenue and Poinsette Street in Clermont Harbor Wednesday morning which was owned by Francis Blappert of New Orleans.

POLICE PROBE FIRE—Inspecting the charred living room Wednesday morning of the Waveland summer residence of Barbara Hoover of New Orleans are Chief Donald Dorn, left, and Patrolman Chuck James, both of the Waveland Police Department. The City Fire Department called the police after firefighters discovered evidence of a breakin and an arson-ignited fire. The home is located at 612 Central Avenue. The fire was confined to the living room, but smoke and heat damage occurred throughout the house. (Staff photo by Wayne Ducomb Jr.)

Jay Marsh of the squad Wednesday said arson caused the Thursday, Sept. 16 fire at a trailer owned by Dale H. Dalgren on Bolivar Street.

He noted the fire was reported at 1:15 a.m. and firefighters of the East Hancock and BaySide Volunteer Fire Departments snuffed the blaze in the living room and kitchen in a matter of minutes.

"This is a definite case of arson and theft involving a color television set," Marsh stated.

The investigator said no one was home when the fire occurred.

Regarding the truck fire, Ed Friloux of the squad Wednesday reported a pickup truck which burned on the US-90 service road near BaySide was the work of an arsonist.

He said the squad is investigating the fire which was reported Sunday at 9:35 p.m.

Friloux said the one-year-old pickup was owned by John Perott Jr. of New Orleans.

"The owner alleges that the truck broke down, he left the vehicle to seek help and returned to find the truck in flames," the investigator said.

"We have excellent leads linking a suspect to the fire," Friloux stated.

The investigator said the East Hancock, BaySide and Waveland departments responded to the blaze.

Regarding the car arson, Marsh reported the vehicle burned early Sunday morning and was parked on Flat Top Road near the community cemetery.

Marsh said the auto, owned by a Nicholson man, was completely destroyed in the fire which was definitely the result of arson.

The squad is continuing its investigation of the incident, he reported.

The investigator said the Leetown Volunteer Fire Department responded to the fire scene along with the squad.

CLERMONT FIRE

The squad is also investigating a Wednesday fire of undetermined origin which destroyed a Clermont Harbor summer residence.

Marsh said the home at the intersection of Railroad Avenue and Poinsette Street was owned by Francis Blappert of New Orleans.

The fire was reported by nearby resident Christine Lusich at 11 a.m. after Frank Klein notified her of the blaze, Lusich's husband reported at the scene.

When firefighters of the Clermont Volunteer Fire Department and Waveland arrived at the scene the structure was already engulfed in flames.

Marsh said the arson squad will investigate the blaze as soon as the fire scene area cools.

LIGHTNING BLAZE

Lightning is determined as cause of a blaze which completely destroyed a Shoreline Park summer residence early Monday morning, Marsh reported.

The investigator said the Tiger Street home of a Mr. and Mrs. Gaines of Bogalusa, La. was reported on fire by a neighbor at about 3 a.m.

Marsh said the neighbor heard a nearly lighting strike then saw smoke rising from the home and telephoned for help.

"Lightning struck the house, shorted out wiring and set the structure on fire," Marsh explained.

He said no one was home when the fire occurred.

The investigator reported the East Hancock, Waveland and Bay St. Louis departments arrived at the scene along with the squad, but the house was already engulfed in flames.

ACCIDENTAL FIRE

The arson squad has determined an accidental kitchen fire caused a blaze which destroyed a home on the Caesar-Necaise Road early Saturday morning.

Friloux reported the brick home of Orval Lee on the road near Hwy. 803 burned to the ground and was reported at 4 a.m.

He said the three-bedroom home was destroyed as the result of a stove burner left on underneath a pot of food.

The investigator said no units arrived at the scene, but the arson squad investigated the fire.

tion from its attorney, Walter Gex.

Dana said the reason for the deadlines is because legislation granting 75-25 matching federal grants to local governments will change to 55-45 grants and the program is slated to end Sept. 30, 1986.

Dana said indications are that Congress will not renew the program after the 1986 date and the state should obtain this money while it still can.

The wastewater district directors also authorized Lewis-Eaton Partnership, a Jackson engineering firm, to conduct a 201 Study which will outline future wastewater treatment facility development.

But since Bay St. Louis has not yet joined the district, the city is not yet included in the study.

Dana said an acceptable 201 Study must include Bay St. Louis to meet State Department of Natural Resources Commission guidelines.

"State law requires anyone expanding a municipal wastewater system has to have those plans approved by the BPC," he stated.

Dana warned that if the bureau discovers Bay St. Louis tapping in any new customers to its sewage system, the resources commission would take disciplinary action.

What that action would be is up to the commission, Dana said.

The BPR coordinator reported his organization's preliminary analysis of local wastewater needs indicate the most cost-effective method for the district would be for Bay St. Louis to change its lagoon to a multi-cell treatment facility for the city's own wastes and for Waveland to continue utilizing its own system.

He said commission and bureau had hoped the two cities would combine systems, preferably utilizing the Waveland plant, but a central management plan for the district would be acceptable to the state.

Regarding Bay St. Louis' sewage lagoon, Dana stated, "The lagoon's performance is poor and they have an interim permit to operate, but they are violating water quality standards."

He said the Bay could meet requirements by extending the oxidation pond outfall line to Jourdan River where anti-pollution standards would be less stringent.

But Dana reported, "I don't feel the people want Jourdan River screwed up either. The lagoon produces a lot of green algae which is unsightly."

He said the department would insure the Jourdan would not be polluted if the Bay extends the line.

That price will remain the same until further notice, Brown added.

The company's action affects some 180-million-cubic-feet of gas produced each day of which 67-million-cubic-feet is drawn from deep wells, he said.

Included in the deep well production figure is seven MCF of gas provided by Cotton Petroleum Corp. of Tulsa, Okla.—a United exploration and production subsidiary.

Brown said United's action should not affect the company's 260-billion-cubic-feet of reserve gas which consists of 160 Bcf from deep wells.

Based on current conditions, United gas management believes that there will not be a material loss of reserves from its action," he added.

ALLOWABLES SET
The Waveland Oil and Gas Field is among some 80 Mississippi pools assigned production rates by the State Oil and Gas Board at a recent meeting in Jackson.

Theresa Moody, board hearings administrator recently explained the state establishes allowables for each well and gas pool which is a maximum efficient production rate.

She said the allowables prevent production waste by establishing flow guidelines so all oil and gas as possible can be drawn from a pool.

Producers exceeding the rate run the risk of an early end to a well with oil and gas still left in the formation, Moody noted.

ANSLEY WELL ON LINE
International Paper Co. No. One Well in the Ansley Field operated by Celeron and Gas Co. of Lafayette, La. began production Aug. 2 just after a pipeline serving the well was completed.

The well is in a 320-acre gas unit consisting of the south half of the northeast quarter and southeast quarter of Section 24 and the north half of the northeast quarter of Section 25 at Township Nine South, Range 16 West.

Mike Prudhomme, Celeron communications manager, this week confirmed the well is producing some 1,721,000-cubic-feet of gas and 113 barrels of oil condensate during a 24-hour period.

The well is producing from the Tuscaloosa Formation with casing perforations between 9,492 and 9,496 feet.

ANSLEY WILDCAT
No drilling company is yet selected and no drilling date is established for Celeron's proposed 23,000-foot drilling operation in the Ansley Field.

Prudhomme confirmed the status report of the Ansley wildcat which is permitted by the oil and gas board for completion in the Smackover Formation.

The well name "International Paper Co. No. Two" is proposed for a 640-acre oil and gas unit consisting of the south half of the north half and the south half of Section 19, and the north half of the north half of Section 30, Township Nine South, Range 15 West.

The venture will be the deepest well ever attempted in the Ansley area.

Most Ansley wells are producing sweet natural gas from the Washita-Fredricksburg Formation at about 10,800 feet which is also dubbed Cuevas Sand.

Prudhomme said the deep well would take some six to eight months to drill.

University of Alabama offers unique bowhunting opportunity

An Advanced Bowhunting School, sponsored by the University of Alabama's Division of Continuing Education, will be held Nov. 5-7, at a 5,000-acre deer hunter's paradise in central Alabama. The site's name and location will be revealed to participants only. The reserve is not open to the public and thus represents a unique opportunity for any bowhunter as the area has not been hunted in 12 years.

The Advanced Bowhunting School is designed for experienced bowhunters, already skilled in bow shooting. The school will feature four hunts, with sessions in between on advanced hunting techniques, sharpening scouting skills, practicing trailing and improving tree stand techniques.

Each of the classes will be taught by one of three experienced instructors. Chief instructor for the school will be J. Wayne Fears, a well known outdoors writer, wildlife biologist and member of the Outdoor Life Magazine Bowhunting Advisory Board. Joining Fears will be Dr. Robert Sheppard, a renowned deer hunting author, and Dan Quillian, a long time archery instructor and master bowhunter.

At the end of each of the four hunts, students will have the opportunity to spend time with individual instructors to review their hunt and to improve their techniques. The school will be limited to 20 students on a first come basis. It will begin at 1:30 p.m. on Friday, Nov. 5, and conclude at noon on Sunday, Nov. 7. The registration fee of $145 per person includes the cost of meals, lodging, instruction and hunts.

For more information about the Advanced Bowhunting School, contact Coy Hollis, Division of Continuing Education, The University of Alabama, Box 2967, University, Ala. 35486; phone: (205) 348-6222. Alabama residents outside Tuscaloosa may call toll free 1-800-452-5971.

QUESTION: I am in the process of securing financing for a house. A lender has agreed to loan the money but only with a renegotiated mortgage. Would you please explain what I'm getting into? B. D. Jackson

ANSWER: Dear B. D.

One of the results of high interest rates has been the reluctance on the part of lenders to make long-term loans such as those needed when you buy a house. A renegotiated rate mortgage, or RRM as it is popularly known, represents a compromise for a lender and is becoming more popular as interest rates tend to remain uncertain.

The RRM, following guidelines set by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, is actually a series of short-term loans issued for 3-5 years each, but secured by a long-term thirty-year mortgage.

The interest rate is adjusted every 3-5 years in accordance with a national index.

A change in the interest rate can only be one-half a percentage point per year for each short term with a maximum increase or decrease of 5 percentage points. A loan with an original rate of 15 percent, for example, could go as high as 20 percent or as low as 10 percent.

Under a RRM, the lender cannot refuse to renew the loan at the end of one of the loan periods. However, after the end of the first renewal term, there is no prepayment penalty and the homeowner can pay off the loan and seek financing from another lender. There are also no penalties for partial prepayment on renegotiated rate mortgages.

For answers to your questions, write Dr. Dennis Tosh, P.O. Box 295, University, MS 38877.

Hancock Chamber members hear World's Fair progress report

By EDGAR PEREZ

Visitors to the 1984 New Orleans World's Fair, conservatively estimated to number some 12 million, will be 'middle class Americans' who will be highly attracted to the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

"They are not going to be a Super Bowl crowd, they won't be high rollers," said Winston Lill, public relations chief for the Louisiana Exposition Corp., promoters of the fair.

Lill, guest speaker at a recent Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Morning Edition quarterly breakfast meeting at the Landmark Restaurant in Bay St. Louis, said the greatest number of fair visitors will be composed of 'mom, pop and the kids.'

"The fair will be the main reason for them to come to this area, but it won't be their idea of how to spend an entire vacation," Lill feels.

"One day of walking around in the French Quarter is enough for most kids," he noted.

"You've got a great family vacation spot here on the Coast," Lill said in urging the Hancock business community to promote its attractions prior to the event.

"There are areas like Gatlinburg and Winston, N.C. near the Knoxville fair this year which took a tourist influx for granted, and it just didn't happen—they are hurting," the speaker explained.

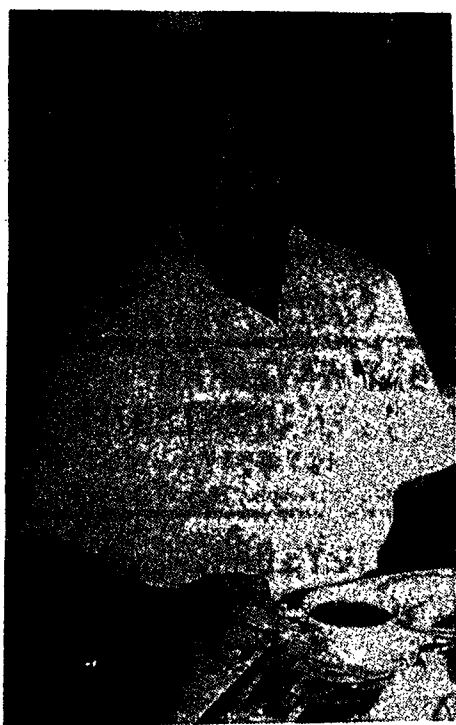

"But other areas like Opryland in Nashville and Chattanooga promoted heavily before the fair and they are doing great," Lill pointed out.

"A family could conceivably spend a week or two on the Mississippi Gulf Coast and take in the New Orleans World's Fair while they're at it—it only took me an hour and ten minutes to drive over here this morning," the visitor stated. Birmingham, Ala. is already promoting itself as 'The Gateway to The World's Fair' Lill noted.

"Our research shows a large number of our fair visitors will be driving through Hancock County, but you are going to have to reach them ahead of time if you want them to stop and spend money here," Lill reiterated.

Mr. "Ouch" Means "Stay Away!"

A figure that young children easily recognize as menacing, is being used on safety labels for some electrical equipment.

To young children especially those too young to read, a lightning bolt figure unofficially named Mr. "Ouch" means "Stay Away!"

Who is Mr. "Ouch"? He's a figure that will be featured in a safety label designed for use on electrical apparatus that is mounted on ground level. This type of pad mounted equipment includes transformers and switchgear often found in public areas such as residential properties, schoolyards and shopping centers.

The equipment is contained in securely locked cabinets, and ordinarily no current carrying parts are exposed. However, if the locks are removed (for example, if a cabinet is vandalized), the cabinet may be left open. Such a cabinet could attract a curious child, particularly if the child has not been warned to stay away.

With this in mind, the National Electrical Manufacturers Association (NEMA) formed a task force to develop a safety label for pad-mounted apparatus. The label would be designed to do two things. First, it would have to warn small children away from open pad-mount hazards. In addition, it would serve to alert responsible adults to report any open equipment to its owner.

Essentially there are two labels—one is an orange bordered warning that is affixed to the outside of the box containing the equipment. The other, a red "danger!" sign, is inside the box on the apparatus. The labels are approximately 4.5 inches x 8 inches in size, and the text may be written in English with a bilingual option.

A carefully designed research project resulted in the final choice of a final label design. Sixteen pictorial designs were shown to black, white and Hispanic children in Chicago and San Antonio.

Ellen Douglas publishes

University of Mississippi faculty member Ellen Douglas, writer-in-residence in the Department of English, has completed her sixth work, "A Lifetime Burning," which will be released Oct. 25 by Random House.

Miss Douglas will be teaching two English courses during the Ole Miss fall semester. They are "writing the Short Story" (English 424) from 2:30-5 p.m. Tuesdays and "Writing Workshop" scheduled for 2-4:30 p.m. Wednesdays.

There are still openings in both classes; anyone interested in enrolling should contact the English department at 232-7439. This will be Miss Douglas's third semester as writer-in-residence at Ole Miss.

"A Lifetime Burning" is the story of a woman's search for an understanding of her marriage and her sexual life, cast in the form of a confessional diary she is writing to her children.

As the work was in progress, Miss Douglas held several readings from the book on the Ole Miss campus.

Miss Douglas's first novel, "A Family's Affairs," won the Houghton Mifflin Fellowship Award for the best first novel of the year and was included on The New York Times list of five best novels in 1961, was her collection of short fiction, "Black Cloud, White Cloud," in 1963.

Her third novel, "Apostles of Light," was nominated for the National Book Award in 1973. Other novels are "Where the Dreams Cross," published in 1968, and "The Rock Cried Out," released in 1979 and named best work by a Mississippi author that year by the Mississippi Institute of Arts and Letters.

Ellen Douglas is the pen name of Josephine Ayres Haxton of Greenville, who is a graduate of Ole Miss. Miss Douglas will be one of the speakers at the Fall Alumnae Convocation Sept. 19 as part of the Ole Miss Women's Centennial observance.

News Brief

RETINAL DISEASE

With new methods available today, two eye diseases formerly considered untreatable are yielding to treatment. One is diabetic retinopathy, the fastest growing cause of new cases of blindness in adults under 75.

Every diabetic is at risk for this condition and should schedule regular examinations by an eye specialist, whether or not vision symptoms have appeared.

The other disease, macular degeneration, is a cause of severe visual disability, a loss of central vision most often affecting both eyes. The part of the eye affected is the macula, the specialized part of the retina responsible for sharp central vision.

NOTICE REGARDING AVAILABILITY OF NEW MORTGAGE LOANS

Public Notice is hereby given to the residents of Hancock County, Mississippi (hereinafter referred to as the "County"), that the Mississippi Housing Finance Corporation has agreed, subject to certain conditions, to purchase from Southern Federal Savings and Loan Association (hereinafter referred to as the "Lender") up to $338,400.00 of New Mortgage Loans originated by the Lender in Hancock County. The interest rate on such New Mortgage Loans will be 12.25% per annum.

The Lender does not maintain an office in Hancock County. However, if any resident of Hancock County wishes to determine whether he or she qualifies for one of these new mortgage loans, or wishes to apply for one of these new mortgage loans, or wishes to obtain further information regarding the terms and conditions of these new mortgage loans, they should write to or visit the Lender's office at the following address: P.O. Box 550, 133 Davis Ave., Pass Christian, Miss.

PLEASE NOTE: There are certain eligibility criteria that must be met in order to qualify for one of these new mortgage loans and not every resident of Hancock County will so qualify. Further information regarding eligibility can be obtained from the Lender. In addition, the $338,400.00 of New Mortgage Loans referenced above represents the Lender's allocation for Hancock County. On and after 60 days following September 18, 1982, this allocation can be reduced. Therefore, any interested resident who may qualify for one of these new mortgage loans should contact the Lender as soon as possible.

This notice is given by the Lender in accordance with the provisions of the Rules and Regulations of the Mississippi Housing Finance Corporation and Section 43-33-541, Mississippi Code 1972.

Independent study units keep nurses up-to-date

Independent Study Units (ISUs), offered through the Continuing Education Program of the School of Nursing at the University of Southern Mississippi, are an economical means of continuing education in nursing.

They are available to registered nurses who want to stay up to date in their field, said Linda Pritchett, the ISU Coordinator.

There are over 100 units available for nurses to study. Topics range from Arrhythmia Recognition and Interpretation to Fetal Monitoring, Ms. Pritchett said.

Nurses who complete the units are awarded continuing education units through USM. These CEUs are not academic credit, Ms. Pritchett said, but a type of credit for short-term non-traditional study.

The average time required to complete an ISU is four contact hours; however they range from one to 40 hours.

This wide range of hours and topics nurses can choose from permits them to choose an ISU that meets their learning needs and fits their lifestyles, said Ms. Pritchett.

This is how the program works: A nurse sees that he or she needs current information on coronary care, for example, and requests information from the Continuing Education Program.

An ISU which contains a workbook and other related materials, such as filmstrips, slides and books is sent to the nurse. The nurse studies it and completes a pre-test, required learning activities and a post-test.

The unit is sent back to USM to be evaluated by the personnel there. If everything is satisfactory, CEUs are awarded to the nurse.

The continuing education faculty works toward keeping the ISUs current by periodic review and revision or withdrawal of the ISU from the program.

Also the continuing education program asks each nurse who completes an ISU to comment on the course. The department uses the feedback to make changes in the unit.

"You really have to be motivated and self-directed to use an independent study unit because there is no direct interaction between student and teacher," said Ms. Pritchett.

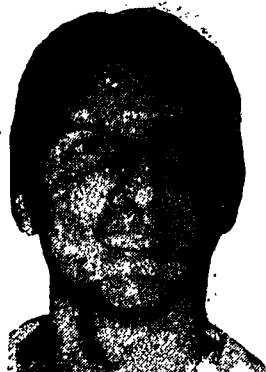

Many nurses have shown this commitment—last year ISUs were distributed to nurses in 105 health care agencies and to 88 nurses' homes.

Nurses have reported that they are able to offer better service to their patients as a result of completing the ISUs, she said.

In addition to providing ISUs, the continuing education program also conducts workshops around the state for nurses on such subjects as dealing with the elderly patient and prenatal care and nutrition.

The program is accredited by the American Nurses' Association Central Regional Accrediting Committee.

For more information about ISUs, the workshops or other areas on continuing education in nursing, write to USM, School of Nursing, Continuing Education Program, Southern Station box 5104, Hattiesburg, MS 39406-5104, or call (601) 266-5511.

THE GRAPES OF WRATH

Admittedly, John Steinbeck was one of America's greatest writers. His simple prose highlighted and profiled the working people of the United States. Steinbeck's writing inspired sorrow, pity and beauty in our hearts and minds. His 'Red Pony' and 'Of Mice and Men' are required reading in many public schools today.

But of all Steinbeck's classics, none reads as well or was so carefully transferred to film as his priceless masterpiece, 'The Grapes of Wrath.'

Directed by John Ford and starring the late Henry Ford, 'The Grapes of Wrath' is a monumentally depressing film that senses, amidst the anguish and despair of the Joad family, the ultimate truth.

And Fonda, his angular, angelic face seemingly looking into another world, brings that truth to an emotional climax when he utters the now-famous farewell speech to his mother.

TOM: "...well, it's like Casey says. Fellow ain't got a soul of his own, just a little piece of a big soul, the one big soul that belongs to everybody. Then..."

MA: "Then what Tom?"

TOM: "The it don't matter. I'll be all around, in the dark. I'll be everywhere. Wherever you can look... wherever there's a fight so hungry so people can eat, I'll be there. Wherever there's a cop beatin' up a guy, I'll be there. I'll be in the way guys yell when they're mad. I'll be in the way kids laugh when they're hungry and they know supper's ready. And when the people are eatin' the stuff they raised, livin' in the houses they build, I'll be there too. Good-bye ma."

The movie is almost unbearable at this point, but then, as the old jalopy chugs down the highway, Ma Joad realizes the meaning of her life and of her family's very existence.

Military

AIRMAN KNIGHT

Air Force Airman Henry F. Knight, son of Henry F. and Ella Y. Knight of Route 2, Pass Christian, has been named outstanding airman of the month for the 375th Consolidated Aircraft Maintenance Squadron at Scott Air Force Base, Ill.

The airman was selected for professional skill, duty performance and exemplary behavior.

Knight is a parachute specialist.

MA: "...well, Pa, a woman can change better'n a man. A man lives sorta, well, in jerks. Baby's born or somebody dies, that's a jerk. He gets a farm or loses it, and that's a jerk. With a woman it's all in one flow like a stream. There are eddies and waterfalls but the river goes right on. Woman looks at it that way."

"...We just keep a'comin'. We're the people that live. They can't wipe us out, they can't lick us...we'll go on forever, 'cause we're the people."

When Ma Joad utters these prophetic words, it immediately lifts this film from tragic despair to soaring optimism.

John Ford's direction, along with Gregg Toland's photography, is sparse and stunning. A particularly good scene involves the Joads driving into a migrant camp. The camera is mounted on the front of the truck as it drives slowly through the camp. People gawk and move slowly in front of the camera, giving the viewer the feeling that he is actually driving. All through this scene the straining sound of a truck in first gear is the only audible distraction.

The absence of a soundtrack is an important aspect in this 1940 classic. In almost every scene that involves dialogue, there is no music...simply the actors stumbling through their homespun horror of what is happening to them.

Jane Darwell won an Oscar for her portrayal of Ma Joad. And Henry Fonda lost to fellow actor and friend, Jimmy Stewart, who won for 'The Philadelphia Story.' Veteran

Mississippi Brownbuilder Darla Lawrence: One of the Best

Darla Lawrence, from Pascagoula, is helping build the economic growth and progress of her state as part of Brown & Root's worldwide engineering and construction team.

Darla joined Brown & Root in 1981 as a switchboard operator. She and her husband, Anthony, have six children and attend Our Lady of Victories Catholic Church in Pascagoula. On the weekends, Darla enjoys sewing and reading.

Another thing about Darla: she's one of the best. She's helping Brown & Root do a better job, because she knows her job and gets it done right.

Wherever Brown & Root works, we always look for people like Darla. We give preference in hiring to people in jobsite communities and offer them opportunities to advance as fast and as far as their abilities and merit take them. That way, we share the benefits of every job with local people and share the economic benefits of payrolls, purchases, savings and taxes with local communities and states.

Brownbuilder Darla Lawrence helps us all by being one of the best.

Mississippi pears—a fall delight

By ANN O. RUSHING
Extension Marketing

Fresh pears are available almost every month in the year — thanks to the difference in harvest dates and improved methods of packaging of our several varieties of pears.

Bartlett, Keiffer, Bosc, Comice and Anjou are the main varieties and come to market in that order. One of the pleasures of fall is picking pears from your own trees, right here in Mississippi. These are excellent for preserving, baking and eating fresh. Bartlett is the leading variety of market pears. It is large, bell shaped with smooth yellow skin, fine grained flesh and juicy. It's good for eating fresh, canning or drying and is available July-Oct.

Keiffer is oval shape, pointed at both ends; greenish yellow when ripe often with a red blush and has many large russet dots. The flesh is gritty, juicy, tender when ripe, but not buttery. They're fair for cooking and poor for eating fresh, good for preserves and come to market in October.

The Bosc variety is large with long tapering neck; dark yellow color with russet and a slightly acid flavor. These are good for eating fresh and cooking (especially baking and broiling). The market season is October-January.

Comice is large, roundish with uneven sides; greenish-yellow skin, shaped with red; fine textured flesh and highly aromatic. They're good for eating fresh and favored for gift packages. The market season is October-January.

Anjou is the large, chunky, thick with short stem, pear. It has a greenish yellow skin, often russeted; fine grained flesh, wine-like flavor. Use it for eating fresh, cooking or canning. The market season is October-March.

Most pears are picked and shipped to markets while still green. If pears are allowed to ripen on the trees, they will not develop the fine smooth buttery flavor that comes when you pick them green and then allow them to ripen. The texture of the tree-ripen fruit is coarse and gritty.

When you choose pears at your grocery store or market, don't be misled by a scar or minor surface blemish. Many delectable pears have a highly russeted skin. If you overlook the fruit with slight blemishes, you may be passing over the choicest of the bunch!

Most grocery stores sell pears by the pound. The following is a guide you may find helpful in determining how much to buy.

One pound equals three to four medium pears; one pound sliced or diced equals two cups, three to four servings, two to two and one-half pears equals one quart canned and one bushel or about 50 pounds equals 20 to 25 quarts canned.

Sort pears when you bring them home. Ripe ones go right into the refrigerator while the green ones need room temperatures (or a little cooler) to ripen. You may leave them in a paper bag or container if you wish. Check ripening pears daily as they usually ripen at different speeds. When they give slightly to pressure, they're ready for use or the refrigerator. If you are buying pears that you don't plan to use for a while, you may wish to put them into the refrigerator while still green, and then ripen them later.

Pears, long accepted canned, have never been popular when frozen fresh; however, baked pears freeze quite well. Use your recipe for baking pears, but undercook the fruit slightly. Bake it only until it is almost tender. Remove the pears from the oven. Cool quickly. Pack in moisture-vapor proof rigid containers. Seal and freeze. When you are ready to use them, slip them back into the oven and heat until tender.

NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE
By virtue of a decree of the Chancery Court of Hancock County, Mississippi, in Cause No. 12,182, in and to the effect that the undersigned was directed to sell certain real property owned jointly by Charley J. LaFontaine and McCulloch, Elizabeth LaFontaine Estapa, Jeanette LaFontaine Wiggins and Patricia LaFontaine Boyd, said real property being described as follows:

Lot 44, Second Ward, City of Bay St. Louis, Hancock County, Mississippi, as per the official plat of said City and County, E. S. Drake, C.E., and filed in the office of the Chancery Court of Hancock County, Mississippi, on May 1, 1920.

Also: Any right, title or interest of the co-owners in that part of Lots 43 and 45, Second Ward, City of Bay St. Louis, Hancock County, Mississippi, as per the official plat of said City and County, E. S. Drake, C.E., and filed in the office of the Chancery Court of Hancock County, Mississippi, on May 1, 1920.

Now, therefore, I, CLAIBORNE McDONALD, IV, Trustee in said Deed of Trust, will, on the 27th day of September, 1982, offer for sale at public outcry, between 11:00 A.M. and 4:00 P.M., at the Front Door of the County Courthouse of Hancock County, at Bay Saint Louis, Mississippi, to the highest bidder, the best bidder, the following described property, lying and being situated in Hancock County, Mississippi, being more particularly described as follows:

Lot No. 28, Mallard Point, Phase I Subdivision according to the official map or plat thereof on file in the office of the Clerk of Hancock County, Mississippi.

I believe the title to the above described property to be good, having no claim against said title as is vested in me as Trustee.

WITNESS MY SIGNATURE TO DO, this 27th day of August, A.D., 1982.

Testimony from hypnosis

By DAVID A. SELLERS
Copley News Service

Six rape victims are hypnotized in an effort to help identify their assailant. The sessions are conducted by an experienced deputy sheriff and the information is recorded. Can the testimony of the six be used in the trial?

witnesses who testified under hypnosis.

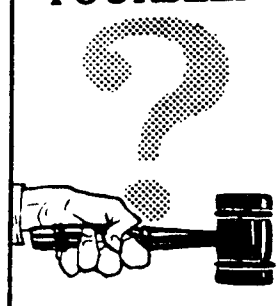

Ariz. v. Arizona Superior Court 50 LW 2425 (Ariz. Sup Ct., 1982)

Sellers is currently court reporter for The Washington Times and former editor of the District of Columbia Bar Association newspaper.

A. Yes, as long as the hypnosis is conducted by a reliable professional.

B. No, information given under hypnosis, though helpful at times, is generally unreliable.

JUDGE FOR YOURSELF

C. No, it is unfair to use testimony from hypnosis as evidence because witnesses must be available to be examined by the prosecution and defense.

D. Yes, as long as the victims willingly agreed to be hypnotized.

The Arizona Supreme Court ruled in favor of B and C. The court said people behave differently under hypnosis. Persons in such a state tend to respond more willingly to suggested information, partly because they are eager to piece together the facts of the case.

The court also pointed out the hypnosis may jog a person's memory and provide some increase in recall. It also may cause the person to fill in details that are possible, but consist of memories and fantasies. Until hypnosis is generally accepted by the scientific community, the court said, it should not be part of a criminal trial.

Also, the Constitution gives criminal defendants the right to confront witnesses against them. This would not be possible for

Military Mention

CADET BOWSER

Albert M. Bowser III, son of Albert M. Bowser Jr. of 206 Lynn Circle, Pass Christian, and Melvin Z. Bowser of 2883 Manda Drive, Columbus, Ohio, received practical work in military leadership at the Army ROTC advanced camp at Fort Riley, Kan.

The six-week training includes instruction in first aid, communications, marksmanship, orienteering, weapons systems, defensive and offensive tactics, reconnaissance techniques and other areas.

Most cadets fulfill their advanced camp requirement during the summer between their junior and senior years in college. The successful completion of the advanced camp and graduation from their respective college or university will result in the student's being commissioned a second lieutenant in the active Army or the U.S. Army Reserve or National Guard.

Bowser is a student at Jackson State University.

Tiger coach feels Bulldog, Bay High strength is equal

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Two evenly-matched teams will battle in Tiger Stadium in Bay St. Louis Friday night.

That's the forecast by Snuffy Smith, Bay Senior High School head coach, who Tuesday said the Vancleave High School Bulldogs and the Tigers overall have equivalent strength and ability.

Of course the Tiger mentor feels his team will be victorious, but win or lose the event will be a tough hard-hitting contest.

Both teams possess 2-1 win-loss records for the season and in Deep South Conference standings.

"Vancleave does everything real well and is an experienced ball team," Smith stated.

The head coach said Bulldog Quarterback Phillip McMillan (six-foot three-inches tall and 190 pounds) is a good passer.

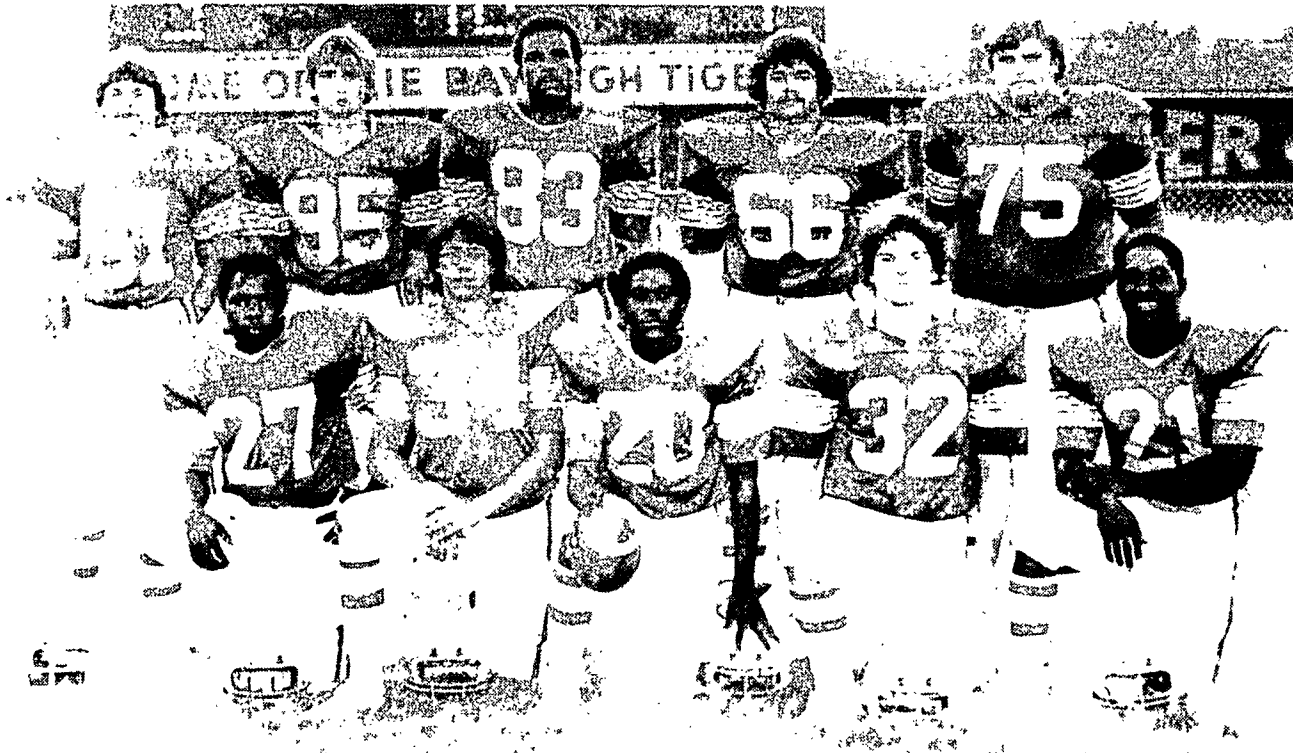

Smith also reported Vancleave fields a fine defensive team which is quick and agile.

"The Bulldogs run a multiple offense, he noted.

The Tiger head coach said none of his players are injured except for a few with bumps and bruises, and "basically" all BHS players are manning the same positions.

Kickoff time is 7:30 p.m.

Dickinson, Split End and Runningback Michael Lewis, Runningback and Guard Mike Proulx and Fullback Charles Hawkins. The seniors will participate in Bay High's Friday night game at Tiger Stadium with Vancleave High School. (Staff photo by Brent Macey)

'Family Feud' scheduled in Hawk Stadium Friday

By EDGAR PEREZ

Hancock North Central's Hawks, smarting from a surprise trouncing by Stone County last week and a defeat the previous week at Forrest County in Brooklyn, are facing a toss-up at home against rival Pass Christian.

"I'm looking at a toss-up ball game Friday," said Hawk head coach Irvin Favre.

"This is an unusual rivalry we have with the Pirates, a lot of their kids and our kids are related or they are good friends," the coach explained. "So when you have a rivalry as close as this one, anything can happen if one of these teams gets fired up."

One thing I do know, it's going to be a good ball game," he assured.

Favre said the Hawks are in good physical shape, with no major injuries to handicap their quest for a hometown victory.

"This week will be a good opportunity for the Hawks to play good football and snap out of the rut we've been in," the HNC mentor continued.

"Our ball club will be ready," he promised, adding, "We've had good practice sessions this week and our enthusiasm is high."

Favre said the Hawks will be seeking to contain the explosive Pirate tailback Ben Fields.

The Pirates bring a 0-3 record into the contest and are promising a few surprises for the Hawks, including reported lineup shifts.

Hancock took the season opener against St. Stanislaus, and is 1-1 in the Deep South Conference and 1-2 overall.

Pass sustained two conference losses in a schedule which thus far has included undefeated D'Iberville and Vancleave and the strong Bay High.

Kickoff is at 7:30 p.m. Hot popcorn will be available at 7 p.m.

Bay soccer team formation underway

The Bay Area Soccer Club has completed its formal registration program for the 1982-1983 recreational soccer season with more than 250 players registered.

Interested youngsters who have not yet registered are encouraged to contact the approximate division commissioner.

They are Frank Gray, under eight, 467-7296; Mike Davis, under 10, 255-1021; Stan Weidman, under 12, 467-5769; Sam Allison, 14 to 16, 467-7857; and Harriet Bellone, girls, 467-4061.

Also, many school offices have registration forms available.

Teams are being formed

The team rosters will be given to coaches after a meeting at 7:30 p.m. on Sept. 28 at the Lutheran Church of the Pines. All coaches and assistants are urged to attend, according to a club spokesman.

Al Mayeu, youth coach for the Mississippi Youth Soccer Association, conducted a coaching clinic Saturday in which 22 coaches and potential coaches participated.

The afternoon session included first aid and the laws of the game, followed by outdoor grid work, shooting and goalkeeping exercises.

The next clinic will be a refereeing clinic scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 30.

Lumpkin shuffles Pirate positions for Hawk game

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Several Pass Christian High School football team starters are being moved to different positions in an attempt to break the team's so far winless season.

Pirate Head Coach Bob Lumpkin Tuesday reported his plans for position changes, but would not reveal what players are effected by his decision.

Pass Christian will play Hancock North Central High School in a Friday night contest set for Hawk Stadium. Kickoff time is 7:30 p.m.

Lumpkin noted in previous games this season the Pirates have made offensive and defensive mistakes.

He also noted his offensive squad has not moved the ball well.

"We're in good physical shape and we play hard, but we just have made too many mental mistakes," the head coach stated.

Lumpkin said he expects the Friday night game against the Hawks to be a hard-hitting one and feels HNC's 1-2 win-loss record does not reflect the team's real ability.

"Hancock is explosive offensively. I definitely feel we've got our hands full again this week," Lumpkin stated.

The head coach reported the Hawks' most valuable player is Runningback Lydell Curry who rushes more than 100 yards each game.

"He's (Curry) one of the best backs around and is a game breaker," Lumpkin stated.

Lumpkin also said HNC Fullback Dennis LaCoste is an impressive player as well as Hawk Quarterback Mark Santalla.

"Santalla throws the ball well and handles option plays well too," the head coach added.

PIRATE MUSICIANS—Performing during halftime at Francis S. McDonald Stadium in Pass Christian Friday night is the Pass High School Marching Band. The band played several

Race time is 8 a.m. with registration from 7 to 7:45 a.m.

The race is hosted by the Naval Oceanographic Office at NSTL, Ocean Striders Running Club, and the Mississippi Gulf Coast Running Club.

This event is sponsored by Gulf National Bank; Allen Beverages, Inc., of Gulfport; and Athletic Shoes Unlimited of Gulfport and Slidell.

Advance applications may be picked up from Athletic Shoes and all branches of the bank.

In addition to the Two-Mile Run, there will be a One-Mile Fun Run. T-shirts and certificates will be awarded to all finishers, with trophies to first place overall, male and female.

There will be 10 male age groups and seven female age groups, with awards to winners to each group.

The oldest consecutively held race on the Mississippi Gulf Coast, the event was started five years ago to acquaint the newly arrived Naval Oceanographic Office and its 1,000 plus employees with the Coast and its runners.

All Gulf Coast residents are invited to register and run

Bay, Waveland, Pearlinton boxers victorious

Wayne Karl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Karl of Waveland and fighting for Gulfport Boxing Club in the Intermediate 85 pound class defeated Tony Guerrero in Saucier Saturday night.

Karl, using combinations of lefts, rights and uppercuts, won all three rounds by unanimous decision.

Karl is 3-0 this season. Todd Rooks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rooks of Bay St. Louis and also fighting with Gulfport Boxing Club in the Senior 125 pound class, defeated Michael Moss of Meridian Boxing Club.

Fighting a hard three rounds, Rooks won in an unanimous decision.

David Bennett son of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Bennett of Pearlinton and another Gulfport Boxing Club fighter in the Senior 112 pound class, won in Saucier in three close rounds.

The boxers are working this week in preparation for the Gulfport Classic, a two-day event in the Rice Pavilion in Gulfport starting at 2 p.m. Saturday.

IF I HAD THE WINGS OF AN ANGEL—Hancock North Central Halfback Gary Fricke, surrounded by Stone County Tomcats, looks for a way out of the dilemma as he returns a Stone kickoff following the Cats final touchdown with less than two minutes remaining in Friday's game in Hawk Stadium. The Hawks bowed to the Cats 28-2 in the conference loss. Friends and relatives from Pass Christian will invade Hawk Stadium this week for another Deep South Conference event. (Echo staff photo by Edgar Perez)

Bay High Girls host Mercy Cross in volleyball today

Bay High's volleyball team beat Our Lady's Academy in a close game at OLA last week.

The match went three games with Bay winning 15-17, 15-11, 15-7.

The leading server for the Bay High varsity squad was Theresa Ladner with 12 points.

Members of the Tiger varsity team include Dana Favre, Terrie Rhodes, Lisa Day, Theresa Ladner, Helene Loloacano, Shelia Dempsey, Janet Handshoe, and Stacy Carter.

In B-team action, Bay High was also victorious in beating OLA B-team by a score of 15-3, 15-17, 15-4.

The leading scorer for Bay High was Donna Moran with 12 points.

Members of the Bay High B-team are Donna Moran, Theresa Thomas, Shelley Burton, Lisa Day, Mary Lerner, Robin Sores, Mary Shuppi, Bridget Maurigi, Donna Pamsano, Stephanie Cuevas and manager Kristen Triche.

In other action, Bay High was downed by No. 1 Biloxi by a score of 15-1, 15-3.

The B-team lost a close contest to Biloxi's B-team by a score of 1-15, 16-14, 10-15.

"I'm real proud of my girls. We were down 11-0 to OLA in the first game and the Tigers showed that they have what it takes to fight back and win. We should have a pretty good season if we continue to work together," said Bay High coach Barbara Powell.

"This will be the first year Bay High will host the District Eight volleyball tournament and we are really hoping for a good turn out. I know there are a lot of people who have never seen power volleyball played but I think they'll enjoy it if they take the time to come out and watch a few matches," Powell said.

The District Tournament will be Nov. 1, 2 and 3.

Escatawpa River subject of Park Service study

The National Park Service in Atlanta has begun a study to determine whether the Escatawpa River in southern Alabama and Mississippi qualifies for inclusion in the National Wild and Scenic Rivers System.

The study of the river, located in Jackson and George Counties in Mississippi, and Mobile and Washington Counties in Alabama, was authorized by Congress in a 1978 amendment to the Wild and Scenic Rivers Act.

The study area stretches from the confluence of the Escatawpa and Jackson Creek in southeastern Mississippi to Deer Park, Ala., and includes seven miles of Brushy Creek in Alabama and Mississippi.

The Park Service will conduct the study and report its findings and recommendations to the President and the Congress.

In order to qualify for designation as a national wild and scenic river, the Escatawpa must possess outstanding values, either scenic, recreational, historic, or fish and wildlife. A management plan that is acceptable to both the public and the Park Service also is required.

The Park Service study team will work closely with state and local government officials, local planning organizations and other interested groups and individuals during the study, which is expected to be completed by the end of 1983.

Originally established by Congress in 1968, the National Wild and Scenic Rivers System currently includes 53 rivers.

Additional information may be obtained by writing to: Chief, Rivers and Trails Division, National Park Service, 75 Spring St., S.W., Atlanta, Georgia 30303.

Diamondhead wins in Coast tennis

The Mississippi Gulf Coast Ladies Tennis Association composed of 45 or better players opened Fall League play Tuesday.

Diamondhead visited Plantation Pines and won by the score of 135-50.

Gulf Hills played at home and won over Bayou Bluff by the score of 115-82. Racquet Club drew a bye.

Matches include eight single players who play one pro set and four doubles teams who play three sets. The total number of games won is each team's score.

Mary McDonnell is league organizer and Hilda Bourg is official scorer.

Diamondhead's team is composed of Cynthia Allen, Captain; Hilda Bourg, Carolyn Burkett, Anne Heitzmann, Mary McDonnell, Betty Nolan, Susan Plessala, Jeanette Purser, Debbie Sieken, Mary Anna Underwood and Elizabeth Watts.

Plantation Pines team includes Ann Ward, Captain, and Dixie Alexander, Katy Campbell, Norma Gregory, Jackie Hutchinson, Dot Regal, Anne Schatzle, Gladys Stevenson, Terry Sullivan and Emma Williams.

Plantation Pines will travel to Gulf Hills Tuesday and Racquet Club will remain at home against Bayou Bluff.

Diamondhead drew a bye.

November 1, 2, and 3	District Tournament at Bay High

On October 20 1980 Fortune Magazine devoted the major part of six pages to a description of the revolutionary Merrill Lynch Cash Management Account financial service that lets you control your money in these five ways:

1. Idle funds invested automatically. Any cash is automatically invested to earn daily compounded dividends at current money market rates. You may elect to invest in the CMA Money Fund, Tax-Exempt Fund or Government Securities Fund.
2. Check-writing privilege. While Merrill Lynch is not a bank, you may write checks against all your invested cash at any time, anywhere in the world. Checking and VISA® services are provided by Bank One of Columbus, N.A.
3. Loan privileges. There's a standing line of credit available based on the value of the securities in your account.

4. Special VISA card. Provides instant cash at 80,000 banks worldwide. Accepted in 152 countries with a line of credit based on the value of the securities in the account.
5. Unequaled convenience. One easy-to-read monthly statement from one source summarizing all the account activities at a glance. Securities transactions checks VISA card charges, etc.

These are just the highlights. If you have $20,000 in cash and/or securities to invest we invite you to get the full story about the unique Merrill Lynch Cash Management Account at this free seminar. Reserve early by calling or mail coupon.

Wildcats tied for first in Junior College Division

Pearl River College defeated Hinds 28-10 in Raymond last Thursday to move into first place tie with Jones and Gulf Coast in the Mississippi Junior College South Division.

Edward Holt sparked the Wildcats' second half surge with a 93 yard kickoff return for six points. The weaving gallop is just two yards short of the all-time longest kickoff return by a Wildcat. David Cain holds the record with a 95 yarder against Jones in 1969.

Holt's scamper put the 'Cats up 14-0 with 14:48 remaining in the third period. PRC had scored earlier on a 30 yard pass from Bobby DeVaughn to Jimmy English. Tony Smith added the PAT's for the evening.

Shades of last week's third and fourth quarter collapse against Itawamba became a reality as the Eagles put together a drive which netted six points. Last week PRC blew a 15 point lead to lose 19-15.

Clyde Walton pushed it over from the four and kicker Claus Larsen hit the PAT. Moments later the PRC defense held again before Larsen connected on a 32 yard field goal. When the third period ended the 'Cats were clinging to a 14-10 advantage.

The final stanza was all Pearl River as Chuck Bounds, the Wildcats' signal caller the past two games, put together an impressive 78 yard drive. Edward Holt got credit for a one yard touchdown after Bounds took the ball from the eight to the one and then, as he was falling, he pitched to Holt who stepped in for the touchdown.

A little later the Wildcats' defense knocked the ball loose at the 10 and the 'Cats were in good shape again. Two plays later DeVaughn hit fullback Scott Senner up the middle for another score.

On paper, the Eagles had the best game statistics. They racked up 16 first downs to PRC's 8 and had 259 total yards to the 'Cats 220. PRC quarterbacks had four interceptions but, the 'Cats did not lose in fumbles in the wishbone attack.

The PRC win put the Wildcats in a first place tie with Gulf Coast and Jones for the South lead. Hinds dropped to fourth place, a half game ahead of Co-Lin, East Central and Southwest.

The annual "Cat Fight" between Pearl River and Jones is set for the Dobbie Holden Stadium in Poplarville Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

A SPINAL CURVATURE CAN SAP YOUR HEALTH

Scientific chiropractic has gained much knowledge regarding the causes and correction of spinal curvatures. Curvatures of the spine can be so gross that one can easily see the person is twisted. A curvature of the spine slows the adult person down and saps away his energy and strength and even his resistance, making him always feel tired, fatigued, and robbing him of much good health and the long life he should enjoy. Chiropractic research has brought out the technical skills necessary to correct the majority of these spinal curvatures. As a rule, children no longer need to go through life with a crooked back, and adults, too, can have the structural stability of their spines restored. Correction of these conditions helps to bring forth a surge of new pep and vitality, energy and strength which go to make up the ingredients of good health.

Governor proclaims Saturday Hunting and Fishing Day

National Hunting and Fishing Day

Gov. William Winter has proclaimed Saturday, Sept. 25 as National Hunting and Fishing Day in Mississippi.

In a brief ceremony at the Governor's Mansion in Jackson recently, the governor signed a proclamation honoring Mississippi hunters and fishermen on NHF Day. "This year will mark the 11th annual celebration of National Hunting and Fishing Day in this country," Gov. Winter said.

"There is not better time to reflect upon the many contributions made to our state's fish and wildlife resources by Mississippi hunters and fishermen. Through the millions of dollars spent in the purchase of state hunting and fishing licenses, they have been consistent and devoted supporters of the wise use and management of our state's wildlife resources," the governor said.

"Through these means, as well as their continued support of the Department of Wildlife Conservation, we have come a long way in insuring that the good hunting and fishing we enjoy today, will be around tomorrow for another generation of Mississippians to enjoy."

DUCK SEASON PROPOSED It may still be months away, but Mississippi duck hunters are thinking more about their sport these days. And they should, in light of the Department of Wildlife Conservation's recommendations to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service in Washington about the upcoming waterfowl season.

At a meeting in Jackson recently, the five-member Commission on Wildlife Conservation voted to recommend to the Service that Mississippi hunters be given a 50-day season, very similar to the past several duck seasons.

If unchanged the statewide season will be open for two days, Dec. 11 and 12, and then close. It will reopen Dec. 15 and extend through Jan. 31. A final decision about the waterfowl seasons is expected this month, according to Department officials.

Mississippi duck shooters will again be guided by the familiar point system for harvesting waterfowl. Very simply this means that each species of ducks is given a point value. For example, a bird valued at 10 points usually means these ducks are more numerous than, say, a duck worth 100 points.

This year waterfowl hunters will be permitted a daily bag limit of birds worth 100 points, and a possession limit of two legal daily limits. A possession limit is not permitted on opening day.

The daily limit of 100 points is reached when the point value of the last bird taken is added to the birds already harvested, and the total reaches or exceeds 100 points. Since waterfowl are migratory birds protected by federal law, hunters 16 years of age and older are required to have a $7.50 federal duck stamp before hunting. Hunters over 16 and under 65 are required to have a state duck stamp with them, in addition to their valid hunting license. All stamps and licenses must be signed and on the hunter's person while hunting.

Long Beach has a balanced team," Powell concluded.

No injuries are reported from the Mobile County game, a 21-0 loss last week in Grand Bay, Ala.

"We're going to stay with our same people and try to stop the big play for the other team and make things happen for us," Powell explained.

Game time is 7:30 p.m. in Long Beach.

Long Beach has a deceptive 1-2 record. The Bearcats lost their first two games to powerhouses d'Iberville and St. Martin's. Last week they edged another good team, Ocean Springs, 14-10.

Rocks, Bearcats meet Friday

By RANDY PONDER

St. Stanislaus, still looking for their first win of the season, will attempt to decelerate the Long Beach Bearcats Friday night in a non-conference high school football game.

The Rock-A-Chows have not scored since a 33-20 opening game loss to county rival Hancock North Central.

"We're going to have to get some points on the board to win," Rock head coach Vernon Powell stated.

"We move the ball well until we get near the goal where something always seems to happen to us. Maybe we are trying too hard," Powell added.

TALKING ABOUT CRIME—Brenda Bailey, Hancock County Youth Court counselor, introduces five inmates from the Mississippi Department of Corrections in Parchman to Hancock North Central High School students Friday at Hancock North Central. The prisoners, from left, Terry Lash, Anthony Kemp, Richard Gable, William Smith and Israel Bradley, told the students how they became involved in crime, the consequences of that involvement and their present life in the state penitentiary. The prisoners are members of an inmate-run program "Project Aware." They hope their speaking engagements will deter young people from following a life of crime. (Staff photo by Brent Macey)

County Agent's Notes

by John Smith

SAFETY SAVES LIVES

Harvest time is probably the busiest time of the year for farmers and others associated with farming. But farmers should never be so busy that they neglect the most important part of harvesting—safety.

Farmers across the county will try to make this harvest a safe one by observing National Farm Safety Week, Sept. 19-25. President Reagan has officially proclaimed the occasion, and I urge all Hancock County farmers to join in the observance.

Last year, farm work accidents caused about 1,900 deaths and 190,000 disabling injuries in the United States. Although that's less than in the previous two years, agriculture is still one of the country's high-risk industries in terms of accidents.

Difficult jobs and adverse conditions are an everyday part of farming. But they are no excuses for poor safety performance. We all have to do more for agriculture to gain a reputation as one of the country's safest industries.

As a farmer, you can help by taking an active part in Farm Safety Week. By emphasizing farm safety during the week and throughout the harvest season, I think we can significantly reduce the number of accidents during harvest.

Take part in this effort to make our county harvest a safe and healthful event. Without emphasis on safety, it could be a harvest of cuts, bruises, broken bones or worse.

LOWER INTEREST

Falling interest rates and predictions by some noted economists that a continued sluggish economy will pull rates down further in the next year by helping agriculture as well as other businesses.

Short-term interest rates were recently knocked from their lofty levels by an easing of the Federal Reserve System's tight-fisted money policy. And some decline in long-term rates in the next year should bring an increase in business activity.

The importance to agriculture is the effect of lower interest rates on the value of the dollar overseas. There is little doubt that decline of the dollar against foreign currencies will help rebuild our export markets.

A drop in interest rates amounts to a price cut for agricultural exporters. This will help regain agricultural markets that were lost when interest rates were so high.

WATER QUALITY

A Water Quality Workshop for Commercial Catfish Farmers is slated Wednesday, Oct. 6 at the Mississippi Power Company Service Center, Hwy. 11 By-Pass, Hattiesburg.

This workshop will be of interest to all commercial catfish farmers and to individuals who are raising catfish for their own use. There will not be a registration fee for this workshop.

This meeting will start at 1:00 p.m. and be over at 4:45 p.m. If anyone in the county is interested in this program, please contact me by calling my office, 467-5456.

STOP INSECT WASTE

Enough stored grain is lost to insects each year to feed millions of people. It's estimated that between 5 and 10 percent of the world's stored grain is eaten up by insects.

U.S. farmers lose an estimated $300 million to $600 million each year to stored grain pests. In some tropical countries, losses run as high as 50 percent.

We have some of the same problems with grain insects in Hancock County. Certain types of weevils, beetles, borers and moths can be a problem unless control measures are taken.

The best way to prevent insect damage is to reduce the insect population before storing. Some grain varieties have characteristics that keep down insect damage in the field and storage bin.

After harvest, store grain in the proper facilities. The ideal storage place is a weather-tight, rodent-proof bin. Store only clean grain that has a moisture content of 12 percent or less. Higher moisture invites insects.

Clean the storage area completely before storing the grain. If old grain is in the bin, either remove it or treat by fumigation before adding the new grain. Don't add new grain to old untreated grain.

After cleaning, treat the inside of the bin with a recommended insecticide. Give particular attention to cracks and crevices where insects may be hiding.

It may be necessary to apply an insecticide directly to the grain at storage. Be sure the insecticide is approved. For more information contact the county Extension Office.

GARDENING

Vegetable growers still have plenty of gardening opportunities left in September and October. With warm weather and cool night, vegetable plants beaten down by the August sun will revive and begin setting fruit.

Tomato plants will put on a fall crop, and bell pepper that has been barren will set a heavy crop. Cabbage, broccoli and cauliflower that suffered through August will come alive and start growing.

Several vegetable choices are available for September planting. Beets, carrots, chard, mustard, turnips, spinach, radishes, onion sets and leaf lettuce all produce well in fall gardens.

Insects and diseases can damage fall vegetables just as they do spring plantings. Crickets, worms and downy mildew are examples of potential problems.

For more information on producing fall vegetables, contact the Hancock County Extension Office. Ask for a copy of the Garden Tabloid.

HAY HARVEST GOOD

With a decrease in rain showers last week, there was a lot of hay harvested. Where soil moisture is adequate, there is still time for another regrowth and harvest before winter on grasses such as bahiagrass, dallisgrass and bermudagrass.

If weather permits, the next regrowth may be the best hay for many producers who delayed earlier harvests or had hay rained on during harvest.

STATE OF MISSISSIPPI COUNTY OF HANCOCK TRUSTEE'S NOTICE OF SALE

WHEREAS, on the 11th day of January, 1982, David Shaw and Marie Shaw, executed a Deed of Trust to Eddy Parsons, Trustee, for the benefit of the Bank of Wiggins of Wiggins, Mississippi, which said Deed of Trust is now of record in the Office of the Chancery Clerk of Hancock County, Mississippi, at Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, in Book 240 at Pages 46-49 of the Records of Mortgages and Deeds of Trust on Lands of said County; and

WHEREAS, default was made and now exists in the payment of the indebtedness secured by the said Deed of Trust; and

WHEREAS, the Bank of Wiggins, its owner and holder of said Deed of Trust and the indebtedness secured thereby has exercised the option contained in the Deed of Trust and declared the entire indebtedness secured thereby immediately due and payable, and has called upon the undersigned Trustee to execute the trust therein contained, and requested that the undersigned Trustee sell said property under the provisions of the Deed of Trust for the purpose of satisfying the debt thereby secured and unpaid, together with attorney's fees and the expenses of the execution of this trust and of the selling of said property.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, the undersigned Trustee, Eddy Parsons, do hereby give notice that on Friday, the 2nd day of October, 1982, during legal hours, I will proceed to sell at public auction, at public outcry, to the highest and best bidder for cash at the East Front door of the Hancock County Courthouse in Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, the following described land with all improvements located thereon situated in Hancock County, Mississippi, and more particularly described as follows, to-wit:

A parcel of land located in the North 1/4 of the NW 1/4 of Section 22, Township 3 South, Range 14 West, Hancock County, Mississippi, being described as follows: Beginning at the half-section corner in the line between Sections 15 and 22; running South 60° 53' West 851.7 feet; thence South 69° 32' East to the South line of the NE 1/4 of the NW 1/4 of Section 22; thence East 84 feet to the Southeast corner of said NE 1/4 of NW 1/4; thence North 1,327 feet to the place of beginning. The land conveyed contains 14 1/2 acres, more or less.

The undersigned Trustee will convey only such title as is vested in him as Trustee of the Trust.

WITNESS MY SIGNATURE ON THIS 10th day of September, A.D. 1982.

SPORTS QUIZ

How many consecutive no-hit, no-run games have been played in baseball history?

Two, pitched by Johnny Vander Meer of the Cincinnati Reds.

That was back in 1938, and no one has matched Vander Meer's accomplish-ment, either before or after "No Hit Johnny" broke all major and minor league records.

Today, Vander Meer re-counts the story as he did countless times during his "second" career as sales manager for Jos. Schlitz Brewing Company.

Now retired, he recalls, "It was the first game under the lights in the Brook-lyn Dodgers' old Ebbets Field. We played Casey Stengel's Boston Bees that night, finishing up with a score of 3-0."

Four days later, the 23-year-old fast-balling young-ster met the Dodgers, Inning after inning, the Brooklyn team was rendered hitless by the southpaw's blazing fastball.

The game ended 6-0, earning Johnny Vander Meer of the Cincinnati Reds a solid berth in baseball re-cord books.
